midsummer song

Sunday 23rd June, 11am-4pm
free entry and parking

Performances from local choirs and singing groups alongside; workshops, cream teas, prosecco, Pimm's, ice-cream and summer bbq.

The vocal talents of the Wye Valley and Forest of Dean will be on display for all to hear at Taurus Crafts 'Midsummer Song' event. Now in its third year the event features a diverse range of local choirs and singing groups.

Singing on the day will be Chepstow Singing Club, The Chatelaines, Forest Singers, Mathern Ladies Choir, Wydean Gospel Choir, and Springfield Singers. Joining the established local choirs will be the upcoming singing stars of the future as Lydney C of E schools' Glee Club start the event off at 11am performing a range of songs the 7 to 11 year olds have honed to perfection for the national competition, Young Voices.

'It's great to have a local school here at this year's event, Lydney C of E Glee club are regulars at our Christmas Markets, they are really popular and always attract a crowd. It will be such a nice change for them singing in the midsummer sunshine rather than the mid-winter chill'

Visitors keen to test out their own vocal talents can join in one of the free taster workshops. In these sessions, professionals will help you sing effectively and learn techniques to improve your repertoire, no experience necessary and all welcome.
